

Payvand Natanzi

Analyst

Payvand Natanzi joined AXCS Captial as an Administrative Analyst after its acquisition of George Smith Partners in 2022. Her main responsibilities include growth and administrative operations.

Growing up in a family of real estate professionals, Payvand became intrigued by the industry at a young age and always knew she'd build a career in the real estate world.

Payvand graduated with her Bachelor of Science in Real Estate Development from University of Southern California in 2021. During her time at USC, Payvand obtained experience working in various facets of real estate, including real estate finance and property management tech. Post graduation, Payvand joined a gas station operations and management firm where she focused on business development and scaling.

Payvand is a proud Persian Jew born and raised in Los Angeles. In her spare time, she loves to cook, ride at SoulCycle, and spend quality time with her family.